

PHOTOGRAPHY ROTATION | MINXUAN ZHENG

The theme of this photograph is music. I want to keep my composition in a certain rethem, so I use the basic shapes like rectangle to stack a stair. I put the photo which has buildings as the background, then I locked it. After that, I place other two photos above it. I used layer mask to cut the shapes, it shows the images under its own layer. Then I play with the mode of layers, in this step, I tried many version, because different mode would combined very different outcome. In the end I choose D-value and color burn as the combination.

The background layer is the photograph of my accomodation.
